

Newsletter - September, 2008

Greetings from Yunca Heating

Unfortunately due recent increases in the price of steel in excess of 25% combined with rises in enamel costs, freight and associated items we are forced to adjust the prices on our heating product effective 01 October 2008.

At this stage we are only adjusting completed unit costs and flue kits to minimise the administrative impact of an across the board rise. The effect is approximately 5% rise on solid fuel product and 8% on gas heating product.

EXTENDED WARRANTY ON CLEAN AIR WOODBURNER FIREBOXES

On a positive note from 01 September we are offering an extended 10-year (currently 5-year) warranty on all our clean-air woodburner fireboxes. The 12-month warranty on replaceable parts shall remain. Full details are on the website <http://www.yunca.co.nz/YuncaHeating/warranty.htm>

With our intention of continuous improvement we are adding to our web-site a photo gallery of all spare parts to aid you with identification for your customers. Go to <http://www.yunca.co.nz/Instructions/index.htm>

A hard copy of this is available to those who do not have readily available internet access, please advise your Yunca representative if required.

Solid fuel and gas heating continues to increase in viability given the cost and uncertainty with the alternatives. There has been a sizeable increase in the popularity of woodburners given the recent publicity about our electricity system and the potential price rises.

It is hoped that our level of service remains to your expectations and should you have any feedback I would personally like to know.

Please have no hesitation in contacting your Yunca representative or myself should you require any further information on any matters.
